2.) Today is your Birthday,
But you're just a wee tot.
You don't understand yet
how much longer you've got.
But the Birthdays will go on and on
'til you're old and gray.
So blow out the candles
and celebrate today.

3.) They say you're getting older,
but your future looks vast.
Your acne has healed now
that you're childhood has passed.
As you celebrate this Birthday,
your future looks clear.
Just don't get too crazy --
There'll be another one next year.

4.) They say you've just now reached the prime of your life.
I see in your future
times of struggle and strife.
But you'll meet them with courage
as time slips away.
We hope you've invested in a 401K.
